

In this essay I am going to argue in support of killing cane toads. I have ~~read~~ read a number of articles which have persuaded me that these creatures are menacing horrible creatures. I will also be considering those arguments in defence of these slimy animals; however my main viewpoint is against these dirty annoying pests.

From looking into ~~new~~ research into cane toads it is obvious that these violent creatures are destroying poor native species of Australia. For them to be stopped they must be ~~er~~ eradicated. Even though this may sound very horrible and mean it is necessary that these deadly devils must be dead!

Cane toads are plastered with warts and poisonous skin. They came to Australia in 1935 as farmers wanted them to eat the cane beetles that were eating their cane sugar. This didn't work as the cane toad colony expanded rapidly.

Why should they be eradicated? According to Queensland politician Shane ~~the~~ ~~James~~ ~~Smith~~ Smith, cane toads are destructive and, "killing our native wild life and taking over ~~habitat~~ habitats." (bbc News, 2012). In addition to this, public support of the toads is also hard to come by. The BBC reports (2012) that most Australians regard the toad as nothing more than a "growing nuisance".

There weren't many arguments to back the toads as most people think they should all be killed. Lots of people did say that they must be killed in a nicer way instead of being ~~beaten~~ beaten.

It is clear that cane toads are a nuisance as there were much more articles in support of killing them instead of saving them.
~~staying~~

BBC (2012), Australian volunteers take part in cane toad cull, 'BBC News', (07/04/12).